Base and wall cabinets

Base and Wall cabinets are essential for a functional exam room. Our casework is the highest quality you will find anywhere. Drawers glide on 40 precision bearings to a full extension position allowing access to the entire drawer. Doors are a full 3/4" thick adding to the feel of quality as they swing on engineered self-closing hinges. Door handles are chrome with room for 4 fingers and rounded for safety. The entire shell is 3/4" thick and is easily installed with wall brackets and leveling floor glides. CAD engineers in our design department can help maximize space in your exam room, office, kitchen or waiting room. Our casework is modular in 12" increments.

All medical cabinetry is available in the following standard configurations.

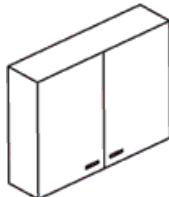

Custom configurations are available for a nominal custom charge. All base cabinets are available with sinks as needed. Cabinets are available in over 200 custom colors please contact us for more information and check out our colors and options page here for more on our standard and custom colors.

As a manufacturer of exam tables and exam room equipment for pediatricians, family physicians and anyone looking for a unique answer to "the same old exam room", Goodtime Medical has a virtually unlimited array of possibilities. Take a look over this page to review all of the standard options available to you. If you don't see what you're looking for here just contact us or give us a call at 1-888-386-8225 we can usually make it happen.

Colors?

Yes, we've got some colors. We probably have the broadest selection of standard colors available from a major manufacturer of exam tables. Choose any of the laminate colors for the body of your table, then choose a complimentary pad color.

If you like the orbital series of tables you can select a leg color as well. We typically choose a leg color to match the pad color and then choose a complimentary color for the body.

If you don't see any colors here that work for you feel free to visit our vendor's websites for more selections.

This question always arises as we work with a customer. The simplest way to answer this question will require a little role playing. Imagine you are a patient lying on the exam table. If you were to hang your arms over the side which side would the drawers and cabinets be on? If you answered "the left side" you would need a left handed table. Vice versa, if you answered "the right side" you would need a right handed table.

All of our exam tables are available in either a left or right handed configuration to fit your specific design. Please call 1-888-386-8225 or contact us if you have any further questions.

Tilt?

A tilting backrest is a great way to ensure the utmost in patient

Shipping Terms and Conditions

Our products are shipped directly from our manufacturing facility to your office via common carrier.

Standard shipping includes a "dock to dock" delivery. This means that our driver will bring our products in their shipping containers to your loading dock. You will be responsible for unpacking and moving the product to it's final location.

For offices that do not have a loading dock but do have the personnel to unpack and move the products, we offer a lift gate service. Our driver will get the products off the truck and on the ground. You will still be responsible for unpacking and moving to the final destination.

For offices without the resources to transport our products, we offer a 2-man inside delivery. Our driver will bring the crate to either your loading dock or provide a lift gate service to get the products off of the truck. They will then proceed to unpack the products, transport them to their final destination and dispose of all packing materials.

All of our products come completely assembled and all have our industry leading 5-year warranty.
